Matt from Bellingham WA (1,3,4,5) returned in June 2015. He brought along his buddy Chuck (2,4), as well as some rye, cigars and bear salami. The boys had great hunt and some good, clean fun with guide Geoff (page 3). And we're looking forward to hunting with Matt again in June 2016.

Stephan from the Harz Mountains of Germany came to Omineca for his first Black Bear. Waidmannsheil. (That means "Cheers and Way to Go!" in German hunter lingo)

- 1) A good morning Bull on the trail of receptive Cow.
- 2) Ted of Gallup, New Mexico dropped this bull where he stood on Phantom Hill. We were calling in a bowl on top of the hill when pulling out, we caught this bull coming up behind us.
- 3) This 7 foot Boar was feeding on the last huckleberries of the season. Hunter: Bill from the Bay Area, CA by way of Idaho.
- 4) Darron of Williams Lake, BC with great mature Bull.
- 5) Bill at Mud Lake Lookout waiting on a Bull in the "magic hour".

Omineca Crew News

1) End of Season Meat Hunt. Your humble scribe and Outfitter, Frank (left) with a spike-fork bull, Jill (center) and Guide Colin (right) returned as a hunter in 2015 and took a fine young bull.

2) Jill on walk with her chum, Lou. Jill is the heart and soul of the camp and my dear friend. She keeps the camp organized and humming with an eye for detail and a mother's love. She can run the boat in the storming pitch-black night and keep the whole camp happy and warm. We have run the camp and business together for over 10 years.

3) Guides Mike (left) and Wes (right) with their own spring bears. These boys are friends, hunters, family men and guide's guides. Let em loose in the bush and they won't stop til the game is down and work is done.

4) Guide Geoff has been my buddy for over 30. To list his qualities, skills and achievements would read like fiction. There are other friends and family that help keep the outfit running but Jill and the guys here are the backbone of the Omineca crew. And I couldn't do it without them. Thanks Team!
